

Here we show three more examples of the average meta-learned weights of augmented variants from one input w/ and w/o mean teacher. In each figure, the input sample is different front each other.

Different augments of the same input